

1973

SCHWARTZ BROTHERS
BAKERY

PROMOTING BREAST CANCER RESEARCH

Gretchen Mathers was an operating partner at Schwartz Brothers Bakery and Gretchen's Shoebox Express. She was an early pioneer for women in business and a good friend to many. Gretchen was first diagnosed with breast cancer in 1979, but she became a breast cancer survivor and went on to inspire and lead until her passing in 2007.

In Gretchen's memory, we provide support for organizations involved with breast cancer research and education, including Swedish Hospital Cancer Center, Fred Hutchison Cancer Research Center, and the Susan G. Komen Foundation.

Every time you buy Schwartz Brothers Bakery Pink Cookies we donate a portion of the proceeds to benefit breast cancer research.

We also make in-kind donations to events for organizations involved with cancer research and education. If you work for one of these organizations, please send a donation request to: donations@schwartzbros.com

WHOLE SOME BAKED GOODS

schwartzbrosbakery.com